Liechtenstein-based company launches global real estate investment innovation

CROWDLITOKEN – now also available via smartphone

CROWDLITOKEN AG once again lives up to its reputation as a pioneer: With immediate effect, all real estate investment processes can also be performed via mobile devices. The Liechtenstein-based Fintech company thereby responds to developments in customer preferences while also launching a global innovation. This solution will dramatically simplify the process for retail customers and is a step forward in the development of digital financial products in Europe.

Anytime, anywhere – real estate investments can now simply be conducted via smartphone or tablet. CROWDLITOKEN AG is thus adapting its technology to the preferences of potential customers, 70% of whom access the internet exclusively via mobile devices. "Customers can now complete the entire purchasing process for our financial products on their way to work, during a mountain hike or in bed just before going to sleep", says CEO Domenic Kurt. This brings CROWDLITOKEN a significant step closer to its vision of making real estate investments freely accessible to everyone. All processes, from registration to purchase and custody, will become leaner and therefore even more customer-friendly.

The CROWDLITOKEN bond combines the advantages of direct and indirect real estate investment and thus sets new standards in the development of financial products. The bond sale will continue until mid-April 2020, via the CROWDLITOKEN platform and the Swissquote online bank.
